

GhIPSS Announces Executive Leadership Appointments

Accra, Ghana – The Ghana Interbank Payment and Settlement Systems Limited (GhIPSS), has announced the appointments of new executive leaders as are part of a strategic move to strengthen the company’s capacity to deliver on its mandate and support its evolving growth priorities.

The appointed executives collectively possess extensive knowledge and a wealth of experience drawn from across the financial services industry. Their combined expertise will further strengthen GhIPSS’ capacity to deliver on its mandate as Ghana’s national payments infrastructure provider

Executive Leadership Appointments:

Eunice Amewu Nyadu (FCCA, UK) has been appointed Chief Finance Officer, with oversight responsibility for Finance and Strategy. She is a highly accomplished finance and strategy executive with a track record of building and scaling financial infrastructure platforms. Her expertise spans financial engineering, corporate governance, capital structuring, and strategic transformation within complex, multi-stakeholder environments. As the first Head of Finance at GhIPSS she led the design and implementation of the organisation’s finance and control architecture, underpinning the growth of Ghana’s interoperable payments ecosystem. In her current role, she is leading the financial and strategic transformation agenda to position GhIPSS as a next-generation payments infrastructure provider, driving investment, innovation, and ecosystem expansion across banks, fintechs, digital financial services providers and next generation ideas.

Akosua Blay has been confirmed as Chief Business Officer following her tenure as Acting General Manager for Project and Business Development. She is a seasoned financial services and payments executive with over 30 years of professional experience, including 18 years in the payment systems sector. She brings expertise in business development, stakeholder engagement, and the delivery of national payment solutions. In her current role, she will be responsible for business development and project-related initiatives. She is a professional member of the Chartered Institute of Bankers, Ghana.

Juliet Ackah-Nyamike has been appointed Chief Operations Officer, with oversight responsibility for the Operations Department. She brings over two decades of leadership experience in digital payments, transactional banking, and card systems operations, with strong expertise in payment operations, settlement management, and digital banking service delivery.

Mary Dei Sarpong has been appointed Chief Shared Services Officer to lead the Shared Services portfolio. Prior to this appointment, she was the Head of the Partnerships and Bulk Payments Unit. She brings over two decades of experience in the financial services industry and has played instrumental roles in advancing bulk payments, clearing operations, customer support, and financial inclusion initiatives through e-zwich. In this role, she will oversee administration and facilities management.

Commenting on the appointments, the Chief Executive, Clara Arthur, noted:

“I am happy to welcome Eunice, Akosua, Juliet and Mary to the GhIPSS Executive Management Team. Their appointments reflect a deliberate step towards strengthening our leadership structure to enable us achieve our strategic priorities and position GhIPSS for the next phase of the company’s growth. I am optimistic that, with their support, we will continue to drive innovation, enhance operational excellence, and deliver greater value to our stakeholders”

GhIPSS continues to play a central role in Ghana’s digital payments transformation by providing interoperable payment infrastructure that enables seamless transactions across banks, mobile money operators, and other financial service providers.
